Smith's Confessions.

However the public may be inclined to smile at the eleventh-hour discovery of Joseph L. Smith that he is a "conservative," the readers of his interview with the Boston Herald reporter will not fail to note his admission of the design to capture the State House and his belief that force enough had been made available to to have taken possession of it last week if he had been willing. This confession by the Fusion "Commander-in-chief" disposes of the recent attempt to convince the public that no design upon the State House was contemplated, and it fully vindicates the sagacity and wisdom of Governor Davis' action in summarily squelching all such schemes by providing ample protection for the State Capitol.

BASS' CREATURE.

Daniel Sanborn says his "heart goes out" to John B. Foster after reading his letter proposing to divide the steal; and the same immaculate Sanborn continues to pour out vile abuse of the Supreme Court of Maine. A "fellow-feeling" will doubtless cause Sanborn to wax very indignant at our publication of a leaf from Mace's official record at the Pension Department—so we may as well say that inquiries are being made in the same department to see if the records afford confirmation of current reports of certain scandalous frauds in pension matters, and if so, why the perpetrators should be dragging mud at our Court in an indecent newspaper instead of breaking stones in a penitentiary.

THE MILITARY IN MAINE.

(From the Boston Journal.)

The Fusionists appear to be very indignant because Gov. Davis, who has no State police and who is apprised of plots to seize the Capitol and endanger the public peace, has placed a few soldiers in the State House. Let us look at this matter. Has martial law been declared? Are citizens arrested by soldiers? Have the functions of civil government in any way been suspended? The answer must be in the negative. Why, then, have these men with muskets been called to Augusta? Simply to repel an attack upon the Capitol, which it was believed would be made, or was at least planned. They will, in no event be used except to repel an attack from an armed force or suppress insurrection. No man's liberties are threatened. The writ of habeas corpus has not been suspended. The sheriff is yet the only terror to the evil-doer. The "gilly" of the policeman has not been superseded by the bayonet. Why, then, this fright?

We must not forget that there is a peculiar state of affairs in Maine. Governor Davis, who represents the Government established in accordance with the mandate of the Supreme Court, is opposed by persons claiming to be the Government of Maine. Another person claims to be Governor. He has directed a man claiming to be Secretary of State to execute papers under the seal of the State. He has appointed his military staff, composed, we are informed, of several of the most reckless men in Maine, one of whom is a Communist. A body claiming to be a Legislature is holding sessions and has issued orders looking to an assumption of power. Half of the members of that body are willing to go on and act as a Legislature in defiance of the decree of the Supreme Court. Their leading counsel, Mr. A. P. Gould, is a man who advised Gov. Garcelon to pay no attention to the decree of the Court. He may advise Joseph L. Smith and his associates to go on and act as a State Government. Advices from all parts of Maine lead Gov. Davis to believe that these claimants of the State Government are ready to employ force to dispossess him and set up authority in defiance of the State Government. Under these circumstances can any man who does not believe in revolution condemn Gov. Davis for his action?

Let us also remember that these troops have not been called out to provoke but to prevent a collision, to keep the public peace and to show those who contemplate revolution that it would be madness to attempt it.

A NUISANCE TO BE ABATED.

A special from Augusta to Wednesday's Boston Herald says:

An active Fusionist to-night, in a conversation with members of his party, that had the Republicans shot a single Fusionist, or dispersed the Fusionist Legislature at the bayonet's point, the cities of Bangor and Lewiston would have been in ashes. Nobody questioned the statement. This, taken in connection with other talk made by ex-Councillor Fogg, shows that a desperate feeling prevailed among the Fusionists. Mr. Fogg has been predicting a desolating civil war in case of a violent policy being adopted by the Republicans.

It is about time to notify the frantic Foggs and Bloods and Blacks who indulge in this glib and cheap threatening against the public peace that the State Prison and several county jails are yawning for them.

J. L. SMITH INTERVIEWED.

HE SUDDENLY APPEARS IN A NEW ROLE AS A CONSERVATIVE.

(Special Despatch to the Boston Herald.)

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 27. Fusionist Gov. Smith was first informed of the Supreme Court's decision by a Herald correspondent, to-day, what he said: "It is nothing more than I have expected, and now, as law-abiding citizens, we must submit and go to our homes. I shall never re-enter politics, having been forced into my present position by circumstances. The cause of our party will now be referred to the people at the polls. Acts of violence will only injure our party locally as well as nationally. All through this struggle I have had to withstand the efforts of the more violent men in our party to provoke a contest at arms. Some day the secret history of this thing will come out, and it will be seen that I have acted as a conservative man. Only to-day I was visited by a delegation from a neighboring county, and asked to authorize the bringing of a thousand armed men to this city of Augusta for the purpose of capturing the State House, and this very night I was labored with by a certain man to consent to a plan which could hardly have failed to put us in the State House before Thursday night. I refused to entertain the plan. Had the court recognized our government as the legal one, I should have taken the necessary steps to inform its authority. I suppose that the most of our Legislature will enter the State House Legislature now definitely decided to be the legal body. I do not expect nor care for the respect of radical men, but I think I am entitled to the good opinion of conservative men. As I have said, the pressure upon me by the radical men of our party has been intense, and I have been censured by them for the course I have pursued. I am a law-abiding man, and shall go home and attend to my business. I have plenty of private cares, and shall enjoy getting back to my own home."

THAT BARREL AGAIN.

The Other End on Tap.

How Garcelon's Heart was Fired.

PLUG-UGLIES PROMISED FRO A ABROAD.

SOME BELLIGERENT BRETHREN.

In that "barrel" of interesting memberoes of the great Garcelonian villany were preserved some highly infamous messages from warlike individuals outside as well as within the State. For instance "Seth Webb, of South Deer Isle," wrote Garcelon offering to raise one hundred men in forty-eight hours' notice to support that distinguished Chief Magistrate in enforcing the counting out steal. Then there are some belligerent missives from abroad, of which the following are samples:

NEW YORK THUGS TO "QUIET THE BOUTELLES AND BLAINES."

NEW YORK, Dec. 27th, 1879.

Governor Garcelon:

Your letter in reply to Mr. Merrill seems to indicate a willingness as your part to submit to the Supreme Court certain points for decision, a list of which you request the ex-Senator to draw up.

After the so-called indignation meetings have denounced your action so brutally, and after the disgraceful affair at Bangor in which Republicans put themselves in the attitude of rebels, it may fairly be doubted whether your Excellency ought to accept any advice from one of the chief instigators of rebellion such as Lot M. Morrill. As a Democrat I would respectfully urge you to stand on the record you have made. The people want no more judicial decisions of political questions. Your authority is set at nang at there are plenty of Democrats in New York able and willing to quiet the Boutelles and Staines in Maine.

Yours Very Respectfully,

THOS. C. THATCHER.

A BOSTON COTTON BROKER WHO PROPOSES TO MAINTAIN THE STEAL, "BLOOD OR NO BLOOD."

IPSWICH, Essex County, Mass., December 28th, 1879.

Governor:

Hold the fort. If the worst is to come there are thousands of strong "men" in this State willing and ready to give you help. CAPT. JOHN HOBBS,

A native of Maine.

"I have 100 Enfield rifles in good condition in boxes. Business?"

"I am a Boston Cotton Broker. The Press of Boston do not reflect the feelings and opinions of the Boston people, neither merchants nor laborers. I could raise 20,000 men in Boston in 24 hours (a Division) for a volunteer service in your behalf.

"Best to settle it without bloodshed if possible, but for God and humanity sake hold the fort, blood or no blood."

THAT BARREL ON TAP.

Foster to Garcelon.

(Reprinted by special request of the Public.)

We have received another instalment from the "barrel" of documents collected after the conspirators hastily decamped from the State House, and the letter which we give below from Councillor Foster to his chief in the counting-out villany will be read with special interest in this city. The reader will note the coolness with which Foster wrote of the shameful fraud by which he and his confederates reversed the whole result of a State election, while his only feeling was that of fear of the popular wrath. The brazen effrontery with which he proposed to "compromise" by giving the Republicans a part of what he and his gang had stolen from them, could be equalled only by himself. Here is conspirator Foster's letter to his chief, Garcelon:

CHICAGO, Dec. 23, 1879.

DEAR GOVERNOR:

I have just arrived here, 10 A. M. I find the political situation in Maine is the prevailing topic of conversation everywhere. The action of the Governor and Council is generally misjudged, everyone getting their idea of the matter from the Associated Press despatches.

I regret to say that I am afraid that we are not fully sustained, even by the Democrats, and only two parties seem to be recognized, viz: Republicans and Democrats. The position we assume, and know to be right, that the Governor and Council are in the matter of canvassing the returns as a judicial body and have not equity powers, is not fully understood. It is rather supposed by people generally that it is simply ministerial or clerical. IT MUST BE ADMITTED THAT AS A PARTY WE ARE IN AN UNPLEASANT POSITION.

I am afraid that unless some compromise is made that we shall suffer next year. The way out of the dilemma, honorable to us as a party and especially to the Governor and Council, is a question which has been CONSTANTLY UPON MY MIND since I saw you on Saturday. I assume and fully believe, that our action as Governor and Council must be sustained by law. (!!) That the position we have taken of what our duties are, is the correct one, and the only safe one to be followed, and that those who concede to us now will hereafter approve our course and strictly adopt it in the matter of treating the returns. IT WILL HAVE THE EFFECT TO EDUCATE THE PEOPLE TO THE IMPORTANCE OF MAKING LEGAL RETURNS.

But we say the Legislature has full equity power, and that they can exercise it without reflecting in the least upon our action. WE FULLY UNDERSTAND (if we do not take into account the frauds which are said to have been committed in the election,) THAT THE REPUBLICANS WOULD HAVE HAD THE ORGANIZATION OF THE LEGISLATURE, if the returns had been legal, that equity gives them the advantage. Would it not be right and also politic, looking to the future of the party, for the Legislature to exercise that power which we did not possess, and deal equitably? This then in brief is what I would suggest, viz:

Let those to whom the Governor and Council have issued certificates take their seats and organize the Legislature by electing as President of the Senate whoever the Republicans nominate; let them have the minor offices of the Senate, let the Opposition have the organization of the House. Let Mr. Davis' name be one of two that shall be sent up to the Senate for the candidates for Governor; and let the Senate elect Mr. Davis, give THREE of the seven Councillors to the Republicans, and DIVIDE THE STATE OFFICES AS NEARLY EQUAL between the parties as possible. Let the Representatives of the cities which were deprived of their seats by the illegality of their returns be admitted, and let the committees be made up of the best men of both parties with reference to the important business of the State and not to politics. (!!) In following substantially this plan we will go to the people next year and I believe receive their verdict of approval.

I assume, of course, that the Legislature would carry out such a programme if requested by the opposite candidates for Governor. I have no doubt they would do so; at any rate so far as the office of Governor is concerned, it is in the hands of the opposing candidates. If you and Major Smith and Mr. Bradbury should concur in the views expressed, you could of course compel such a result.

WITHOUT SOME COMPROMISE I SEE BEFORE THE OPPOSITION AN OVERWHELMING DEFEAT NEXT YEAR. It seems to me some such compromise as I suggest must be regarded as honorable; and in view of the important business to be transacted by the Legislature the coming winter, it is of great importance. I hope you will not consider me as imposing my views upon you, but receive what I have said as prompted on my part by an honest desire TO GET OUT OF OUR DIFFICULTY in an honorable way.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) J. B. FOSTER.

The Blatherskite Mace.

DISBARRED FROM THE PENSION BUREAU

FOR "IRREGULAR PRACTICES."

A NICE CHAP TO THREATEN MINISTERS AND EDITORS.

Since one B. H. Mace specially advertised his donkeyism by rushing into print to proclaim that he had taken the oath of office as County Attorney prior to the beginning of his term in order to fit minute a threat of what his High Mightiness would do to all clergymen and editors who dared to denounce the villany of Garcelon & Co., we have sent to Washington to obtain a leaf from the record of that sensitive guardian of the public peace and morals. It seems that th a loudly braying creature who proposes to hurl the thunderbolts of the law at ministers and editors who disapprove of fraud, stands to-day branded with disgrace on the public records of one of the Departments of the United States Government for having been "guilty of irregular practices," in diverting to himself a very large share of the proceeds of a "charity of the Government." The following official communication of the late Secretary Chandler would look well printed alongside of Mace's bombastic pronunciamento:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21, 1876.

The Commissioner of Pensions:

SIR: I have received and considered your report of the 18th ult. mo, upon the inquiry of Hon. B. H. MACE, whose letter of the 25th of March last was received by reference from Hon. H. M. Plaisted of the House of Representatives, and referred to you for report on the 27th of that month, relating to his suspension as an attorney before your office.

It appears from your report, that in March, 1868, MACE was suspended from practice by Mr. Commissioner Barrett upon evidence being furnished your office that the former had been guilty of irregular practices in the prosecution of claims for bounty land; that in April of that year the order of suspension was revoked and he was again admitted to practice; that he must have been again suspended from practice, in view of the order, dated March 6, 1872, and signed by Mr. Commissioner Baker, permitting him to resume such practice; and that in September of the last named year his name was AGAIN STRICKEN FROM THE ROLL OF attorneys, practising before your office, upon the ground that he has conducted his business as a claim agent unfairly and with an evident purpose to secure to himself a very large share of the proceeds of a charity of the Government, which was alone designed for the benefit of those who had rendered service in its defense.

It further appears from your report that since the date of the last named order no further action has been taken in his case, and that he has not been recognized as an attorney in the prosecution of any claim before your office.

In view of the facts referred to in your report, I CONCUR WITH YOU IN THE OPINION THAT THE PRACTICES OF THE ATTORNEY, AS SHOWN BY THE PAPERS, FULLY JUSTIFY HIS SUSPENSION FROM PRACTICE BEFORE THE PENSION OFFICE, AND I, THEREFORE, DECLINE TO DISTURB SAID ACTION.

The papers accompanying your report are herewith returned.

I will thank you to forward to the Department, to be filed with your report in this case, the letter of Mr. Mace, with the reference of Mr. Plaisted before referred to.

I am, Sir, very resp'y,
Your Obedient Servant,
(Signed) Z. CHANDLER,
SECRETARY.

THE COURT'S DECISION.

The decision of the Court rendered on Tuesday declaring the illegality of the so-called Legislature which has been running in Union Hall, Augusta, is heartily commended by the press.

The Boston Journal says: "The Supreme Court of Maine, in their answers to the questions of the late Fusion Legislature, has given that body the coup de grace. The Fusionists elected have no other alternative but to go into the legal Legislature."

The Providence Journal says: "A dispassionate person would think, upon reading the opinion of the highest judicial body in the State, that the most obstinate partisanship would now yield, and permit the disturbed commonwealth to resume the state of tranquility it enjoyed before Garcelon and his confederates provoked the wicked strife."

The Kennebec Journal says: "The last decision of the Supreme Judicial Court, found in our columns this morning, completes the overthrow of the infamous plot against the liberties of the people. The Justices decide and declare to the State and Nation that the bodies now occupying the Capitol are the legal and constitutional Legislature of the State. All honor to such wise and patriotic Judges! Let the people relotet at once more being in full possession of their liberties!"

The Lewiston Journal says: "The people of this State are under the deepest obligations to the Justices of the Supreme Court for the prompt and decisive manner in which they have set and squelched the growing revolutionary movements in this State. Had the Court delayed, or temporized a scene of disorder and anarchy in this State which would have injured business, destroyed order and respect for law, and perhaps drenched our soil with blood."

[illegible] LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS

The State Valuation

AND OTHER IMPORTANT MATTERS

UNDER CONSIDERATION.

Fusionists take their Seats,

[SPECIAL TO THE WING AND COURIER.]

AUGUSTA, Jan. 28. During the session of the House to-day two of the fusion members—Hall of Corinth and Milliken of Dresden—occupied seats. Mr. Hall cried he had come to stay, and this evening, in his report, the Committee on Town Seats, of which he is Chairman, will meet at his room at the Augusta House. Mr. Ingalls, the fusion member from Wiscasset, says he shall take his seat on Friday.

The Treasurer's Accounts.

The Finance Committee called at the Treasurer's office this morning for the original books and accounts of the fusion Treasurer White, who, it was learned, was absent at his home in Gardiner. Mr. White was communicated with by telegraph and requested to meet the committee this afternoon. He replied that he had not read the decision of the Court, and was unable to meet the committee on account of be ng sick until to-morrow morning. So the committee decided to wait until then.

Engrossing Clerk.

A paper was passed around among members which will be presented to Secretary Chadbourne requesting him to appoint James R. Milliken of Portland engrossing clerk, on account of his former efficient services in the Secretary's office. It received a large number of signatures, and the Secretary, it is supposed, will likely act before the recipient.

Bounty P. Hammond.

Mr. Cutler, of Bangor, presented in the House a bill to give the Bangor & Piscataquis Railroad Company a further time of three years from January 27, 1880, in which to complete their line of road to Moosehead Lake, which was referred to the Railroad Committee.

Valuation Returns.

Secretary Chadbourne told before the Legislature a schedule of the several cities, towns and plantations of the State, showing what assessors have made valuation returns in full and what have made no returns. By this schedule it appears there are returns of returns have been received from 373 towns, with 125 towns not heard from. The Secretary of State has been ordered to notify delinquent towns to report at once.

Bogus State Officers.

Mr. Street of Portland, from the Judiciary Committee reported the following bill which was ordered to be printed:

An Act in relation to State officers. Be it enacted, &c.

Sec. 1. No person shall knowingly assume or attempt to be any State officer of Maine, and is not as such, or shall knowingly and falsely assume to discharge any of the duties of any such officer, or shall knowingly and wilfully refuse or neglect any communication, document, report or other property belonging to any such State officer, or official business of such officer, or shall in any way knowingly and wilfully obstruct or delay any such officer in the discharge of his official duties, shall be punished by imprisonment, not less than one nor more than five years, and by fine not exceeding five thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. This Act shall take effect when approved.

Greek and Latin.

In the House Mr. Springer of Yarmouth introduced an order of inquiry looking to the abolition of the study of Greek and Latin in High Schools. He remarked that he did not contemplate an attack on the present system, but simply to allow those who had objections to it to have a private hearing before the Committee on Education.

A Railway Mission.

The Judiciary Committee reported the amendatory bill to incorporate the Rumford Falls and Buckfield Railroad Company, and it was read twice in the House.

The Maine Mines.

Mr. Hutchinson of Lewiston introduced a Resolve in the House requesting the Governor to appoint a commission consisting of five officers of the active and reserve militia to revise, amend or add to the militia law, as they in their judgment believe to be for the best interest of the State, and report to the present Legislature forthwith. The resolve was read once under a suspension of the rules and assigned for to-morrow.

Days of Grace.

Mr. Verrill of Portland, from the committee on Legal Affairs reported in the House an amendatory bill providing that when a holiday falls on Sunday, and the Monday is the second day of grace in payment of commercial paper, four days of grace shall be allowed. The bill was ordered printed.

SOLDIERS PLAYS CONSERVATIVE ROW

THE BOGUS LEGISLATURE ENDED.

Fusionists Who Will Take Seats In The Legislature.

MILITARY GO IGNOBLY RELIEVED.

Unlawful Enlistments of Men.

Who Members Were Recruited.

[SPECIAL TO THE WING AND COURIER.]

AUGUSTA, Jan. 28. The protracted resistance to law and the infamous attempts to incite civil disorder and anarchy are defeated. The bogus State government and an illegal body of men calling themselves a Legislature who have been planning their rebellious and insurrectionary measures with unparalleled audacity for the past three weeks, have been crushed like an earthquake. The usurpers have been vanquished and their foul conspiracy has been successfully overthrown. Justice and right have triumphed at last, and a legal and constitutional government of the people, and so pronounced by the court of last resort, has proved itself invincible to its enemies who wickedly sought to reverse the people's verdict which had been honestly and fairly expressed at the ballot box.

The Goose Stampeded.

Men belabored fear to-day than they have for weeks past, when during that period they looked over the State and beheld wreck and sorrowful spectacle of business frustrated, manufacturing enterprises abandoned, and the prospect of a conflict of authority which, if not stopped, would result in complications and serious consequences. It is not necessary to rehearse the facts so familiar and fresh in the minds of all who have watched the progress of events in this conspiracy from its inception to its end. It is enough to say that the long agony of suffering and the dark period of turbulence are over. The conspirators have been beaten on their own ground.

The work of legislation will now be proceeded with in good earnest, now that the war is over. Ten men whom the Governor three times declared to be the lawful Legislature will see that the power and integrity of the State is maintained and fully maintained. Any further conflict by bold and reckless men is unlikely. The questions at issue have been finally and irrevocably settled.

Martin's Confession Believed.

The first official act of Governor Davis after the decision of the Court was received, was to cause the following to be issued:

STATE OF MAINE.
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE.
Augusta, Jan. 27, 1880.

Special Orders No. —

Company F, First Regiment Infantry and Richards Light Infantry, M. V. M., will be relieved from further duty at the State House from 8 o'clock A. M., Jan. 28, 1880.

By order of the Governor and Commander-in-Chief.

(Signed) GEO. L. BEAL,
Adjutant General.

Accordingly this morning Company E of the Capital Guards of this city, marched out of the State House to their armory where they were dismissed. The Richards Light Infantry of Gardiner also left, and, in accordance with a special order for transportation, took their departure on the 4.45 train for home.

The State House is now only occupied by the Auburn Light Infantry, and the detachment from the Androscoggin Light Artillery. The gatling gun has been removed from its conspicuous position in the grounds to a less prominent place.

Gannett's Views—His Statements of Fact and Blood.

The bogus Governor Smith seems to be subjected to the decision of the Court. He freely conversed with those who sought his counsel this morning and now acknowledges that Gov. Davis was fully justified in calling out the troops. He characterizes Fogg and Blood as a pair of worth-less adventurers, and says they came here yesterday with a view of making trouble.

The Most Needs Ugly.

The larger portion of the Fusionists are very and swear they will not give up their bogus Legislature met in secret session at four o'clock. They said they would decide upon a programme. Every effort is being made to have Smith continue to act Governor.

The Fusion Caucus.

[TO ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The Fusionists held a protracted caucus this afternoon, there being some 35 members in "the House" and nine in "the Senate". All outsiders were excluded including reporters. The meeting held all the afternoon. The opinion of the Court was really discussed, the debate taking about the same range as previous talk on the subject. Several of those who at first were in favor of stuffing out regardless of the Court's opinion held to their ground, though somewhat softened. The more conservative ones were in favor of yielding and not fighting against the inevitable.

The Adjournment.

It was finally decided an adjourn until the first Wednesday of August. No division of the vote was called for, either "branch" and no member recorded himself either for or against the measure. The propositionists simply declared as carried and the so called legislature adjourned.

Some Fusionists Warn.

Some Fusionists claim that it is their honest purpose and intention to meet on the day named and that they will enter upon heavy campaign work for the next election and endeavor to have the returns of Congressional votes made, one to be sent to them and another to the Legislature as recognized by the Courts; that they will make up a slate to Congress concerning the electorial vote.

Keeping Down Many.

Republicans said quite a number of Fusionists say that such an adjournment was the easiest possible way of having down the seceded members who have given their secession a good deal of trouble; that the "Fusion Legislature" will never again meet or will be shown no mercy by members taking seats in the regular Legislature; that the course pursued was an indirect method of dissolving.

Many Going Home.

If members go home they will be soon returned by their constituents to lookout for important interests coming before the Legislature this session. This will be the town that will move the towns which in turn will move their Representatives. The Legislature will declare vacant all seats that are not now filled and new elections will be ordered.

Smith Playing Conservatism.

Major Smith will leave for home on the early morning train to attend to his lumbering business. He holds to the same views expressed in these despatches last night, and recommends the quiet submission of all good citizens to the will of the Court. He will never agree to the proposition of the fusion legislature coming together again.

Fusionists Who Will Come to the Regular Legislature.

Of Fusion Senators who will take seats at the Senatorial Board, we may safely calculate upon the following: Strickland of Aroostook, Thompson of Knox, Atwell, Barker and Rogers of Penobscot, Lamb of Somerset, and Bliss of Waldo. The five remaining are doubtful as the hour. Five of Penobscot, has telegraphed to his people for instructions. Portia of Somerset, will probably go home.

"Speaker" Talbot will start for home to-morrow. He says he cannot take his seat in the House, but Johnson, Wilson, Long, Hussey, Knowles and in fact the leading men among the Fusionists will come in quietly to-morrow and take seats. About one-fourth will come into the Legislature to-morrow. The remainder will go home for a brief visit to "friends and then enough will return to make up about two thirds of the entire number.

Sawyer!

So-called Secretary of State Sawyer promises to return the valuation books to the office of the Secretary of State and it is thought he will not claim to be Secretary longer.

Some Transcendentalism.

State Treasurer White was unable to be here to-day but telegraphed the Finance Committee that he would read the opinion and meet them to-morrow. He only desires having been to secure himself and bondsmen against loss. The opinion protects him. He will freely give up the keys and property of the office as soon as his successor is qualified.

Unlawful Enlistments.

The committee to investigate the illegal enlistment or enrollment of men held a session this afternoon, when Major Nash, City Marshal White and Major Gallagher gave testimony showing that men were so enrolled by Nash, many of them being ex-convicts.

From Omaha.

The Omaha correspondent of the Commercial writes: "The newspapers of Omaha are anxious to know to whom they can pay their taxes and to secure receipts a bonafide guarantee of not being called upon for them again." Pay them to Alanson Keene, Esq., who is the duly qualified town collector of "home for this town, and his receipt will be ample protection to all that pay the taxes of the current municipal year to him.

Death of a Shakespeare Captain.

A cable despatch received Tuesday states that Captain Blanchard, master of the ship Washington, of Boston, died at sea on the 19th of last December while on the passage from San Francisco to Queenstown. The ship arrived at the latter port January 26th in charge of the first officer. The deceased shipmaster belonged in Hampden. He will rest with him at the time of his death. He had been in ill health for a year past.

All persons taking part in the antiquarian concert to be given by the Cresendo on Friday evening at City Hall, are requested to meet at the rehearsal room, on Franklin street, this evening at half-past seven o'clock.

The Penobscot river being frozen over between Orono and Bradley, making an excellent ice bridge, many teams are engaged in hauling the wood from the latter town to the former, where it finds a ready sale at fair prices. It is seldom that the river remains frozen long at one place that the teamsters make the most of it while the ice lasts.

Fatal Accident to a Maine Man. Mr. George H. Fogg, of the firm of McQuesten & Fogg, saw-mill and dealers in lumber on Border street, East Boston, while assisting in raising a new boiler in the mill on Tuesday morning, was caught by the coming of the boiler between it and a beam, crushing his head in a fearful manner, killing him instantly. Mr. Fogg was a resident of Cambridge, was born in South Berwick, Me., and was thirty-six years of age. He leaves a wife and one child.

Fleeting Party to Kenduskeag. A sleighing excursion to Kenduskeag, arranged by Frank P. Wood, Esq., and others, came off last evening which about one hundred ladies and gentlemen from this city gathered at the Kenduskeag Hotel after a pleasant ride, supper was served at the hotel and the company enjoyed dancing in the nice hall, the floor of which was smoothly waxed for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe with the violin and piano and Mr. Stuart with cornet, furnished very excellent music, and the party proved a very merry and enjoyable one to all. The ride home in the bright moonlight, with the temperature unusually mild for this season, was an exceedingly pleasant feature of a very jolly excursion.

Masquerade Party in Brewer. On Monday evening the home of Mrs. R. E. Leach was filled with a large and happy company of young people, in mask. Mrs. Wm. A. Libby gave the party in honor of her Misses Bessie Libby and Fannie Tuck. The company assembled at an early hour, and when all had arrived and the grand march commenced they presented a beautiful appearance. The costumes were all tastefully unique and exceedingly pretty. When the word was given to unmask the usual look of surprise was manifested as the personators of the various characters were disclosed. Refreshments were served after which all participated in plays and games, which closed this happy occasion. Great credit is due Mrs. Leach and Mrs. Libby for the brilliant manner in which all their arrangements were perfected.

Upriver Notes—Sudden Death—General Items. Our Wing correspondent, Nopen, writes: Columbus Dunn, of Amity, Aroostook County, who, with his wife, has been visiting relatives at Winn, died very suddenly on Tuesday of the week. He was taking dinner on the day in question at the residence of Mr. Joseph Stowe and had just moved near from the table when he fell from his chair. He was taken up insensible and died soon after. Mr. Dunn was seventy-seven years old, a worthy christian and an earnest Republican and was highly respected by all who knew him. His remains will be taken to Amity for burial.——A. B. Moorhead, of Springfield, has split twenty-one pungs during the present season.——Abner B. Chase, formerly in trade here, now residing in Norway, and E. F. Davis, formerly station agent here, now agent at the Peabody street station on the Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad, have been visiting here in the past few days.——Rev. Mr. Pember lectures this evening.

Sudden Death at the Exchange. A young man named William Foley, of St. John, died very suddenly at the Exchange yesterday morning. He has been employed by Mr. Rose as horse keeper on the E. & N. A. Railway for some time and arrived in this city Tuesday night, apparently in his usual health. He retired that night in good season, and at about seven o'clock he was taken with severe cramps and rang his bell for assistance. A physician residing in the house was immediately summoned and after remaining with him for some time he succeeded in closing the pain, so that the patient again went to sleep. In the morning when the porter went to the room he found Foley partially unconscious and he remained in this condition until about seven o'clock, when he died. Coroner Wilcox was notified, but after viewing the remains he deemed an inquest unnecessary. The remains will be taken to St. John this morning.

A Well Executed Cartoon. We have received from Mr. D. D. Colombs, of Auburn, a cartoon entitled "The Chrysalis Last Resort." The boss politics is represented by a subject for dissection, stretched upon a table, around which are gathered Gov. Garcelon, Joe Smith, Solon Chase, F. M. Fogg, Pillsbury and Sewall. Dr. Garcelon has the depleting of the Supreme Court under his feet and a scalpel in his right hand labeled "vivisector." The ill politicians members of the body politic have nearly all been severed from the trunk, and the doctor is saying: "As it pleased myself, I cut off his head." Joe Smith stands at the foot of the table, with papers marked "bonds" and "forgiveness" proceeding from his pocket, and holds aloft his message. Uncle Solon stands looking on busy as: "I don't know but that they have made some mistakes, but then the Legislature can make it all right." Fogg is very appropriately represented with an ass's head upon his shoulders, and a pair of enormous spurs in his hands with which he is completing the horrid work. Pillsbury, with a cloven foot, has one arm affectionately entwined around Garcelon's neck, while with the other he is dropping a roll of greenbacks into the outstretched palm of T. B. Swan, who is standing with a placard labeled "This Space is for sale." Capt. Black pours oil and fire, in the doorway of the Capitol, armed with a musket. Over his head is the motto, "Drive," and the hosting face of Truant stands as a sort of guardian spirit over all.

Department Encampment. The Lewiston Journal says: "Rev. H. L. Hovard, of Bangor, Department Chaplain of the G. A. R. of Maine, is in the city, assisting in making arrangements for the department camp fire Thursday evening. Rev. Mr. Howard will preach a sermon in regard to the observance of Decoration Day. The business session of the department will be held during the day, Thursday, and will not be public. At the camp fire in the evening, the public will be permitted to hear, enjoy and laugh. A fine programme has been prepared by Past Commander Haskell of Lewiston. There will be a large attendance of ex-soldiers and big hunches of yarns will be unravelled by the champion story-teller of the army."

The Orono Murder. The remains of Mrs. Orne, murdered in Orono, Maine, a short time since, arrived at Gardiner Tuesday afternoon, and were conveyed by team to the old home in Chelsea for interment. Her brother, Mr. C. F. Bancroft, was awaiting the arrival of the body, and the following facts were learned from him in regard to the unfortunate occurrence: Mrs. Orne's maiden name was Blanchard. She was born and passed her girlhood in Chelsea, Maine, a small farming town four miles from Gardiner. When about twenty years old she went to Lynn, Mass., to live with a married sister, and perhaps while there did a little machine work connected with the shoe factory. She was married in Lynn about eight years ago. Mr. Blanchard denies the report that she had been married and divorced before marrying Mr. Orne. He says that she was a person who never made enemies, being of a very mild and gentle disposition. He also states that he never heard of or knew such a person as Abbott. It is reported that Sherman Abbott, the alleged murderer of Mrs. Orne has been seen at Montreal.

Alamoosook Fund.

For Boat Sailing.

Mr. Editor:—Bucksport has a source of transient but intense pleasure in her ice-boat sailing. A fine fleet of ice-boats, seven or more, and pleasant company all ready at that beautiful pond Alamoosook, four miles out. In their past week down, and when exhilarating nature does her part in furnishing a good ice surface to the pond and will further complement us, supply the all-necessary wind with it, what a magnificent time these pleasant people have in fact.

Saturday a few of the most interested owners of boats, &c., got their first trial of the season. Monday found a large picnic party there, some hundred or more. The day was only too perfect an one, with no breeze. However, there was much to enjoy besides and all went very pleasantly, yet with constant watching and oft repeated wishes for wind.

Here at the outlet is a lovely spot. For comfort they now have a number of houses the largest one whose long dinner table we first christened, just finished, with chambers above for those who make longer visits. The building for cooking is a little apart, and at noon time the long string of ladies and gentlemen with the cheering dishes drove us all to the plans to satisfy our appetites. Subsequent pleasures every day and large parties overflowing with choice supplies—to the start. Their good nature deserved its success their perseverance would desire at last.

Early Tuesday a stirring air found us on the road out again, and soon we were happily flying over the pond. Accustomed to watch the boats they handle these boats on the with ease and gracefulness. One of them, a new beauty, has been built this winter from the plans of the one we had seen at our Centennial Exposition. Of course she is a great success. What a prize to fish a vessel as this ice-boat sailing is to most of us. How different they sail from ordinary boats. The sheet was already well drawn in, never changed, and the way we flew about left some of us in a quandary as to what direction the wind came from. Going off with the wind you are in a calm that is very pleasant, contrast to the blowing you get when sailing close to the wind.

Three boats at the Captain expressed it, "make their own wind" when sailing into the wind. With a 25 mile breeze on the lake, going into it at the rate of 35 miles an hour, your speed is a 50 mile an hour wind. If, as we heard, just then some boats go faster which sailing into the wind them upon running off before it. They make no lee way, and the triple line their rudders make can be drawn on the ice perfectly straight for a great distance. On smooth ice the motion is wonderfully smooth, and there is but little skating as they come about on the other tack.

Try a balloon and this ice sailing and you get a new idea of motion. We traveled as express train to race with us, a gust tends us at a wonderful pace, our boat lifts one foot, and the new ones ahead drew quicker breathe and looked wonderful. Accidents are rare, though there have been some splendid spills on Alamoosook.

A good sail on each of four of the boats and then 60m.s dinner. Later in the day the ice is sufficiently by the mild sunshine the wind dies down some and [illegible] a little, so fixing the boats up nice to ice house, where a pleasant time and a treat of nuts and fruit closes the day for be there and we are off for Bucksport and home, not minding the little rain.
